Key Messages

Telling the North Texas Giving Day story helps support and strengthen the nonprofit sector and its work in the region. North Texas Giving Day’s intention is to unite, support and engage the community, so sharing the “why” is easy. In case you need a few pointers, here are key messages to use when promoting North Texas Giving Day:

Communities Foundation of Texas’ North Texas Giving Day is back on September 17, 2020!

You can support your favorite cause and help create a more vibrant North Texas by giving at NorthTexasGivingDay.org.

Our community is strong, is standing and will thrive.

In the midst of uncertainty, we can rely on the strength of one another. Doing our part individually helps our collective. Let’s be there for each other.

When we give together, we grow together!

North Texas Giving Day is for everyone, no matter the size of your gift! Find your favorite cause(s) and give!

Make your gift early.

Simply go to NorthTexasGivingDay.org beginning September 1, and you can give early to all your favorite nonprofits.

You can donate more than just your dollars!

Share your time and talent by pledging service hours or volunteering through North Texas Giving Day’s marquee volunteer events. More details on these opportunities will be emailed and posted on the North Texas Giving Day website under the “For Givers” section.

Become an ambassador.

Be an ambassador for your favorite nonprofit by creating your own FUNdraising page and activating your network! Our impact is greater when we give together!

North Texas Giving Day is powered by Communities Foundation of Texas.

CFT is a 67-year-old community foundation that has presented North Texas Giving Day since 2009. The foundation professionally manages more than 1,000 charitable funds for families, companies, foundations and nonprofits and has awarded more than $2 billion in grants since its founding in 1953.

Communities Foundation of Texas provides a variety of training opportunities to participating nonprofits.

CFT equips nonprofit staff to engage their audiences and raise funds and provides free and customizable marketing materials to use for promotion across various channels.

The North Texas Giving Day leaderboards are fun to watch all day.

Follow along and watch the progress of your favorite nonprofits!

Reasons to Give

North Texas Giving Day is a day for GIVING. Passionate people can put action to their convictions and make a real difference!

It’s a regionwide movement.
Communities Foundation of Texas’ North Texas Giving Day is an event that lifts giving and engages the entire region to support local nonprofits, celebrating the important role they play in strengthening our communities. North Texas Giving Day is an opportunity to show the world our region’s generous spirit and that in these unprecedented times North Texans can and will take care of each other.

Your gift matters.
Everyone can be a philanthropist on North Texas Giving Day! No matter the size of the gift, your role as a giver increases the capacity of nonprofits to do their work.

It’s a powerful one-stop shop.
The North Texas Giving Day platform makes generosity easy. With 3,000+ nonprofits registered, you can find and support all your favorite causes in one place.

You can do something today to make tomorrow better.
North Texas Giving Day is an opportunity to show the world our region’s generous spirit and that in these unprecedented times North Texans can and will take care of each other.

Prizes!
By giving on North Texas Giving Day, you’re helping your selected nonprofit(s) qualify for one or more financial and in-kind prizes.

We is greater than me.
Giving together is more powerful (and fun!) than giving alone.

Local pride.
Our big-as-Texas giving spirit is a great pride point to share with prospective families and businesses looking to relocate here. Let’s show the world what we’re made of!

Help set a national record.
We’re Texans, so naturally everything we do is bigger and better. What’s more fun than setting a world record in generosity?!

Be a part of something bigger.
When we give en masse, we demonstrate how much we believe in our region’s nonprofit sector and the power of collective responsibility. North Texas Giving Day is an effective way to stimulate giving in our region, and in turn build a thriving community for all.

Outreach & Advertising

The Communities Foundation of Texas marketing team provides significant PR support with outreach to all local TV, print, radio and online outlets across 20 counties.

- Print advertisements
- Radio advertisements
- Retail partnerships
- Event promotion throughout the metroplex
- Lighting up the Dallas Skyline in North Texas Giving Day colors
- TV PSAs leading up to the event

Each year, CFT partners with many local media partners to spread the word about North Texas Giving Day. Stay tuned by checking out our Sponsors page on NorthTexasGivingDay.org for a full listing.
Plan

Take time before North Texas Giving Day to plan out your social media approach:

• What stories will your organization tell?
• Who will be responsible for social media updates and conversations?
• Who will monitor your North Texas Giving Day progress to track donations and keep donors informed and engaged throughout the day?

Engage

North Texas Giving Day is an opportunity for your organization to increase visibility both on- and offline. Harness the momentum and excitement around North Texas Giving Day and use it to amplify your online presence.

• Have conversations about #NTxGivingDay on social media in the months leading up to and following September 17.
• Make your content relevant, interesting, shareable and uplifting. Tell real stories about real issues surrounding your cause and show how your organization is working to make change.
• Be authentic and engaging. Participate in the conversation. Respond to what people are saying about you.
• Ask your followers to tell you why they support you using the hashtag #WhyIGive.
• Create a customized hashtag specific to your organization in addition to using the #NTxGivingDay hashtag.
• Talk about your success stories – what were you able to do with the funds raised from last year’s North Texas Giving Day?
• Engage others to tell your story – get your staff, board and volunteers to be brand ambassadors, sharing your content.
• Invite a member of your community to take over your social media account for an hour.
• Ask followers to vote on your North Texas Giving Day campaign ideas.
• Check out Nextdoor! This neighborhood-focused network allows you to engage people in your local area. With Nextdoor, you can interact with neighbors, discuss community news and more! Spread the word about North Texas Giving Day and share how your neighbors can get involved.
Social Media: Channel Best Practices

Facebook

The Internet’s Watercooler

- Get started by liking the North Texas Giving Day and Communities Foundation of Texas pages, as well as joining our nonprofit peer-to-peer Facebook group. This will allow you to get updates, important information and tips for North Texas Giving Day. It’s also a great place to get shareable content that you can post on your page.

- Promote your Facebook page. Include a link to your Facebook page on your website’s homepage, newsletters, emails...basically everywhere and anywhere.

- Using your personal account, tag the page and ask your Facebook friends to check it out. Ask employees and board members to do the same.

- Create a Facebook event for North Texas Giving Day that links to your North Texas Giving Day profile page and reminds people to give to your organization. Invite your followers to be part of North Texas Giving Day so that they can be reminded as the day gets closer. Also, tell people to invite others. It doesn’t matter if you’re hosting on site – the whole day is worth celebration!

Twitter

Short and Sweet

There’s a lot happening on Twitter and it all happens quickly. On Twitter, you can connect your organization with those who are outside your usual sphere using #hashtags and retweets (RTs).

Follow @NTxGivingDay and @GiveWisely on Twitter to stay connected with updates, important information and tips. Retweet us for quick and easy content for your feed.

Twitter Tips

- Use the hashtag #NTxGivingDay to be in the North Texas Giving Day conversation.

- Follow and interact with people/organizations who are important to your nonprofit: people who have raised funds for you, those who hold important positions in your community, experts in your area or people who are talking about your interests already.

- Start talking, and have something to offer, such as a link, picture, fact or video.

- Use images! Tweets with images attached get more retweets. Links tweeted with an accompanying image get more clicks.

- Consider hosting a #twitterchat and discuss a topic relevant to your cause

Use #NTxGivingDay across all social media to join in the online conversation!
Social Media: Channel Best Practices

Instagram 📸

Picture Perfect
Instagram is a great tool to visually tell your story to supporters, whether it is a fun quote, graphic or photo. On Instagram, the image has the most impact. Use the caption to give more information, but keep them short – let your picture do the talking! Use #NTxGivingDay so your images will show up in the North Texas Giving Day feed.

You can also share in-the-moment events using the Instagram Stories feature. Here’s what you need to know about Instagram Stories:

- The Stories feature is a newer way for users to share photos and videos on Instagram.
- Instagram Stories can be seen for just 24 hours before they disappear.
- Photos and videos shared to your Story don’t live on your profile’s grid or on your followers’ feeds – the content exists only in the Stories bar at the top of the app.
- Stories are a series of videos or photos, all capped at 10 seconds, but you can add as many as you want. So you can add a 10-second video, followed by a photo that shows for 10 seconds, followed by four more 10-second videos, and they’ll appear one after another.

How can you use Instagram Stories:

- Tell a story. Unlike your Instagram profile, which is likely made up of polished and posed photos, Instagram Stories are much more casual. Use the successive video feature to tell full-length stories and show events or ideas as they unfold.
- Connect with your followers. Instagram Stories make it easy for users to send you a message as a response to your Story. Take full advantage of this and encourage users to send you a message. This promotes 1:1 engagement with people in your audience that you may not have reached otherwise. Just make sure you have somebody monitoring and ready to respond!
- Don’t stress. The casual and spontaneous nature of this feature gives you a ton of room to experiment.

LinkedIn 📈

Strictly Business
LinkedIn is a social media network geared toward professionals, business and networking. LinkedIn is a great tool for content sharing and marketing.

- Polish your organization’s profile. Before starting with any activity on LinkedIn, make sure your profile is complete. Fill out as much information about your nonprofit as you can. This will make your organization appear professional and attractive. If your company page is missing a profile picture or a description, donors are less likely to take you seriously as someone trustworthy enough to receive their donation.
- Be consistent. By posting regularly, you’re increasing the credibility of your organization, you’re keeping your supporters and followers in the loop, you’re establishing yourself as a thought leader, you’re interacting with others, and you’re staying top of mind – just to name a few benefits. Your goal should be to maintain a presence without spamming your followers’ newsfeeds.
- Share your fundraising and awareness campaigns on LinkedIn. By posting regular campaign updates and linking to relevant content, you also increase your chances of receiving donations online.
- Encourage your board and staff to post relevant articles that share industry-specific content relevant to your cause area.

Email: Best Practices

- Make sure your emails are mobile-friendly. It should come as no surprise that the majority of emails are read on a mobile device. If an email is not optimized for mobile devices, it will display poorly to your recipients and will affect click rates, deletion, and unsubscribes. Most email platforms, such as MailChimp, have built-in tools to ensure your emails display correctly on mobile and desktop, but it’s always a good idea to test and preview before sending.

- Use short and compelling subject lines. The nonprofit industry’s average open rate for email is 21.6%. To make your organization stand out and be above average, write concise and enticing subject lines that give your audience a reason to open and read your emails. Aim for using no more than nine words or 60 characters. Research shows that no more than three punctuation marks per subject line should be used, as more than three can make your email appear like spam. Emojis can add some flair to your subject lines, but should be used carefully. Do not use more than one emoji per subject line, and use as supplements rather than to replace words.

- Personalize your campaigns. If using platforms such as MailChimp or Constant Contact, use merge tags to add personalization to your emails. You could add a merge tag to address the recipient directly in the subject line, or in the opening of your email. You can also include other relevant fields of data that help to foster a personal connection with your audience.

- Segment your audience. By organizing your audience into groups with similar interests, demographics, or preferences, you can more effectively target your donors and prospects by personalizing your email content to improve open and click rates. Some examples of segments could include: current donors, lapsed donors, FUNdraising Page creators, volunteers, prospective donors, event attendees, etc.

- Use A/B testing to evaluate performance. A/B testing allows your organization to experiment with different subject lines, send times, from names, or content. By testing variables, you can learn more about what resonates most with your audience to improve open and click rates.

Direct Mail: Best Practices

- Make sure you have good data. At the very least, including personalized content, such as addressing the recipient directly by name, helps to make your direct mail piece more effective. Use a CRM tool to track relationships, personal information, giving history, etc. so that your mailing lists are up to date and relevant.

- Segment your mailing list. As with email, tailor your messaging for better engagement by segmenting your mailing list. For example, if you are mailing a letter to lapsed donors and current donors, you will likely want to use different language to encourage lapsed donors to give again than language you would use for your current supporters.

- Make your direct mail easy to read. Whether you are sending a letter or a postcard, make sure that your mail piece is well designed and easy to read. If your direct mail is cluttered or uses a difficult to read font, your recipients are more likely to throw it away. Use good images, readable fonts, and plenty of space between text and elements.

- Honor donor requests. If a donor asks to be only be mailed once a year, only receive a year-end statement, or not to be made at all, be sure to update their preferences in your CRM or database in order to honor their request. Mailing donors after they have asked to receive less mail or be removed from the list will increase the likelihood that you’ll lose them as a donor entirely.
Dear [Donor Name],

This year, on Thursday, September 17, 2020, [ORGANIZATION NAME] is participating in Communities Foundation of Texas’ North Texas Giving Day, a one-day online giving extravaganza for our whole region.

Last year, we were part of the success as Communities Foundation of Texas brought together nearly 3,000 local nonprofits like us to raise $50 million for our region. [If you didn’t participate last year, use this language: Last year, Communities Foundation of Texas brought together nearly 3,000 organizations to raise $50 million, and we are excited to be a part of the movement this year!]

Since its founding in 2009, North Texas Giving Day has inspired people to get up and give, resulting in increased donations and services provided in North Texas.

We invite you to join the movement and help us reach our goal of [$XX,XXX] on September 17. Here’s how you can help:

1. Get up and give on September 17!
   Your gift matters! On September 17, if you donate to [our organization] on NorthTexasGivingDay.org between 6 a.m. and midnight, your dollars will be stretched with [insert your own matching funds, if applicable] plus bonus funds and prizes raised by Communities Foundation of Texas!

Not available on September 17? No worries! Make your gift early between September 1 and September 16! [insert a link directly to your NorthTexasGivingDay.org donation page]

2. Spread the word!
   Spread the word to your friends and loved ones about [our organization] and North Texas Giving Day! Don’t forget to tag [organization social handle] and #NTxGivingDay if you’re posting online! Encourage your friends and family to get up and give as well! Communities Foundation of Texas is even offering a prize for the social media post that’s shared the most!

3. Follow us!
   Follow our social media [social media account] and facebook.com/NorthTexasGivingDay to stay up to date on North Texas Giving Day!
